Choir Anthem Lyrics

Offertory Anthem By Your Mercy

By Your mercy find in me Your image, Lord, that I may be a true reflection of Your face, by Your mercy. By Your mercy speak to me clear words of hope and victory; Your loving voice assuring me of Your mercy.

Your righteousness exalts me to Your throne where I may stand by faith in Christ alone; not by any merit of my own, but by Your mercy.

By Your mercy set me free in child-like faith to trust and see Your truth in radiant robes displayed, robes of mercy.

Your righteousness exalts me to Your throne...

Canticle of Praise-Bless the Lord O My Soul

Bless thou the LORD, O my soul.

Blessed art thou, O LORD,

Bless thou the LORD, O my soul.

Bless the LORD and forget not all His benefits:

Bless thou the LORD, O my soul,

and all that is within me bless His holy Name.

He is full of compassion and mercy, long suffering and great in goodness.

He will not always be chiding nor keepeth He, His wrath forever, His wrath forever.

Bless thou the LORD, O my soul, and all that is within me bless His holy Name.

O blessed art Thou, O Lord.

The Catechetical Corner

What Has Athens to Do with Jerusalem?

I frequently come across people from different walks of life and faith. It seems that today, it is becoming more and more common to encounter people with little to no faith. This lack of faith stems from many different places. Maybe these people grew up in a household with no faith system. Perhaps they had a traumatic event in their lives, and they are questioning "why." Maybe they have a scientific mindset and do not see any room for God in science. Many of these doubting people have the same comment when pressed on the issue. "Well, what about the big bang??" I always smile when they ask this because the Big Bang Theory (not the show, but the actual theory) was founded by a Catholic priest, Fr. Georges Lemaitre. Nevertheless, there is still a struggle to embrace both faith and reason. Even the title of this article exemplifies this struggle. The title is a quote from Tertullian, who is wondering what does philosophy/reason (Athens) have to do with religion/faith (Jerusalem). It must not be faith vs. reason, but faith and reason.

As Catholics, we are called to embrace faith and reason, the pillars guiding our understanding of the world and our place within it. We must recognize that they complement each other in our pursuit of truth and knowledge.

Faith, rooted in our belief in God's revelation, invites us to trust the unseen and accept divine truths beyond our human comprehension. Faith is believing in what you cannot see. Through faith, we acknowledge the existence of God, his infinite love for us, and his divine plan for humanity. It gives us hope and meaning, guiding us through our uncertainties. This, however, is the major stumbling block for rationalists. If they cannot see it and/or touch it, they do not believe it exists. Just as we cannot be rationalists, we cannot fall into the trap of fideism, where faith is independent of reason.

On the other hand, reason is the gift of intellect bestowed upon us by God. It allows us to explore, analyze, and comprehend the physical, visible world. We engage in critical thinking through reason, using our faculties to examine and understand the natural order, seeking to uncover the truths that govern our existence. We can ask "why" through reason and then see, touch, and smell the answer. In our faith journey, we are called to integrate reason, using our intellect to deepen our understanding of God's revelation. Reason helps us to interpret Sacred Scripture, grasp the teachings of the Church, and engage in dialogue with the world around us.

The Catholic Church has always upheld the harmony between faith and reason. St. Augustine and Anselm famously used the expression, "Faith seeks understanding." This means that our faith does not contradict reason but invites us to delve deeper into the mysteries of God and creation. Pope St. John Paul II also emphasized the importance of faith and reason in his encyclical "Fides et Ratio," highlighting that they are like two wings on which the human spirit rises to contemplate truth. I strongly encourage reading this encyclical.

At times, we may encounter conflicts between faith and reason. It is essential to approach these challenges with humility, recognizing the limitations of our understanding. In such moments, we are invited to prayerfully seek guidance, trusting that faith and reason, when properly aligned, ultimately lead us to a more profound comprehension of God's truth. We should strive to cultivate a harmonious relationship between faith and reason. We must embrace our Catholic faith wholeheartedly while nurturing our intellect, using reason to deepen our understanding of God's creation and his divine plan. By doing so, we can grow in wisdom and become beacons of light, reflecting the beauty of God's truth to the world.

Sincerely in Christ,

Andrew T. Burson

Reflecting on Today's Gospel...

Third Sunday in Ordinary Time, January 21

First Reading: Jonah 3:1-5, 10 Second Reading: 1 Corinthians 7:29-31 Gospel: Mark 1:14-20

Jesus begins His public ministry immediately after being tempted by the devil while in the desert for forty days. As He begins His ministry, He declares: "This is the time of fulfillment." First, the beginning of Jesus' public ministry was, historically speaking, the "time of fulfillment," in that the new era of the Gospel and grace had just begun. But the "time of fulfillment" of which Jesus speaks also refers to each and every time that we hear the Gospel and respond. We do this by sincerely repenting of our sins and by becoming a fuller member of God's Kingdom. But ponder for a moment the specific word "fulfillment." What does this mean?

The word "fulfilled" can be contrasted with its opposite "unfulfilled." To be unfulfilled is always undesirable. In this world, many people find themselves unfulfilled and try to fill this void with many things. Interestingly, the three temptations that Jesus had just experienced in the desert are among the temptations that so many people give into during their search for fulfillment in life.

First, Jesus was hungry, and the devil tempted Him to turn stones into bread to satiate that hunger. This is a temptation to fleshly fulfillment. Second, the devil tempted Jesus to throw Himself off the pinnacle of the Temple to prove He was the Son of God. This is a temptation to fulfillment by pride—pride to convince another of one's importance and identity. Third, the devil showed Jesus all the nations of the world and promised them to our Lord if Jesus worshiped him. This is a temptation to fulfillment by obtaining earthly wealth and power. Of course, Jesus rejected all three temptations as a way of showing that none of these truly fulfill us. And He did this just prior to the beginning of His public ministry so as to then go forth preaching the true message of fulfillment. "This is the time of fulfillment. The kingdom of God is at hand. Repent, and believe in the gospel."

True fulfillment is only found in the Gospel, the message of Truth that Jesus shared during His three years of public ministry and then brought to completion by His sacrificial death and resurrection. Only those who heed His words and open themselves to the grace poured forth from the Cross are able to find the fulfillment that they seek.

Reflect, today, upon your own interior desire for fulfillment in life. How do you try to satiate this desire? Do you allow the evil one to trick you into thinking that fleshly desires, pride or wealth are the answer? Reject those temptations with our Lord and then immerse yourself in His Gospel message, which is the only source of fulfillment in life.

Lord of true fulfillment, You and You alone are the source of the fullness of life. I believe that with all my heart. Please give me the grace I need to reject all temptations in life and to cling only to Your holy Word and the grace given to all who follow You. Jesus, I trust in You.

Preparing for Next Sunday's Mass...

Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time, January 28

First Reading: Deuteronomy 18:15-20; Second Reading: 1 Corinthians 7:32-35; Mark 1:21-28

It's interesting to note that this unclean spirit immediately knows Who Jesus is. This is because each of two opposites emphasizes the other very clearly. For example, the color black is most clearly seen when it is placed in front of something white. Or something hot is most noticeable after experiencing something very cold. And a loud noise is most jarring when someone is sitting in silence. And so it is with Jesus and evil. Jesus, the Holy One of God, is most clearly seen when He comes in contact with an unclean spirit.

This fact gives us some wonderful insights into our journey toward the heights of holiness. Oftentimes, when one experiences a profound and transforming conversion, it is because they were first living a life of sin. When one who is living in sin encounters the saving grace of God, it is quite noticeable. And that is good.

But there is also another spiritual insight we can take from this. To further the analogy, it is also true that when the color black is put next to something dark blue, or something hot is touched after holding something quite warm, there is less notice taken. So it is with the spiritual life. When we are striving to obtain true holiness of life, and when we are already living the many virtues to which we are called, the next step closer to God might not be nearly as noticeable. Instead, growth in perfection for one who is already striving for perfection will be very subtle. And that is also good.

This is important to understand because sometimes, when a person has gone through a powerful conversion earlier in life, they want to return to the experience they had when they initially converted. But that should not be our goal. Instead, we should continually strive to experience these more subtle changes that take us from a life of holiness to one of even greater holiness. In this case, if you do not sense a powerful contrast of spiritual experiences within you, that may be simply because there are no serious sins you are trying to overcome. Thus, the ideal for every Christian is to eventually experience less contrasting spiritual experiences and more that are gentle and subtle as our Lord continues to gently perfect you in many ways.

Reflect, today, upon your own spiritual journey toward holiness. If you do see serious sin in your life, know that God wants to profoundly free you and draw you through a major conversion. If you do not see serious sin in your life and if you already strive daily to become holy, then rejoice if your spiritual consolations and communications from God are much more subtle and, at times, undetectable. Keep working at perfection and rejoice that you are on the correct path.

Lord of all holiness, please continue to draw me into the life of perfection. Help me to grow in every virtue and to continually be aware of every gift of grace I am given. Please help me, especially, to be attentive to every small and subtle grace and to respond to those graces with a truly open and grateful heart. Jesus, I trust in You!
