Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Staying informed: If you do not have Flocknote, I ask that you please consider getting the app so you are "in the know!" To secure the Flocknote app, just go to stpacc.org/flocknote or text STPACC to the number 84576.

Searching for a Director of Sacred Music:

It is with very mixed emotions that I inform you that recently John Bryan resigned from his role as our Director of Sacred Music. John has been a fixture at St. Paul Church for decades. He has led a truly magnificent sacred music program that rivals any parish. John will continue to work as the director until the end of June. If you know John, you know he has a strong desire to teach. Thankfully while he is stepping back from his director position, he will become a full-time music teacher at St. Paul School. Our students are quite blessed to have him.

Proclaim the Gospel. Fund the Mission:

Thank you to all who have already returned their offertory pledge card—and to those who regularly give of their time, talent, and treasure. Through your offertory support we provide for the material needs necessary to answer Jesus' Great Commission, "Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you." (Mt 28:19-20). As I mentioned during our offertory appeal weekend, we are asking all members of the parish to prayerfully consider an increase in your offertory of 5% or more this year to continue to fulfill our mission of evangelization.

Our Sunday Offering: I want to sincerely thank the very many who regularly give of their time, talent, and financial support to our parish. WeShare Online Giving is a secure, and convenient platform. Just text stpaulohio to the number 800-950-9952 or go online to www.stpacc.org/donate. If you have any questions about your parish offertory or WeShare, please contact Parish Accountant Deb Hawking at either dhawking@stpacc.org or 614-882-2109 ext. 229.

Sincerely in Christ,

Fr. Wilson

THE CATECHETICAL CORNER

The Time is Now

The vestments are violet, the organ is quieter, and we are not singing the “A word.” Something is different. Lent is upon us. If you ask any priest, deacon, or parish employee, this is by far the busiest time of year in the Church’s calendar. Why is it so busy? A lot of preparation needs to be completed—more preparation than Christmas, believe it or not. During Lent, we are preparing for a man to rise from the dead, which is not something that occurs on a daily basis. Not only are we busy preparing the Church and the liturgical calendar, but we must be busy preparing ourselves. How do we do this?

Lent is the season for us to step back and take stock of our spiritual life. We begin Lent with very drastic measures if you think about it. There is no easing into the season. On day one, we are required to fast, abstain from meat, and have dirt put on our foreheads, reminding us of our imminent death—remember that you are dust, and to dust you shall return (I hope the Church never gets into the greeting card business). Spiritual preparation is necessary. If we do not look interiorly at ourselves, we miss the mark. Many people go through the Lenten season looking outside of themselves. They miss “the reason for the season.”

What is the reason? Namely, the Resurrection. If Jesus did not rise from the dead: 1) we have no hope of rising from the dead, 2) Sacred Scripture, the Catechism of the Catholic Church, and any other teaching is pointless, 3) our faith is worthless as St. Paul tells us, 4) we are still in our sins, for Jesus did not conquer anything, 5) believers who have died before us are lost. There are many implications. However, Sacred Scripture tells us that Jesus did rise from the dead and is seated at the right hand of God. We believe and have faith in this. However, our faith must continue to grow.

Whether you go to Mass every day or weekly, you can always grow in your faith, and Lent is a great time to do this. Having faith in the Church and Christ is counter-cultural. Growing in faith is not always comfortable—there is stretching. Society tells us that if something causes discomfort, we should avoid it at all costs and only focus on things that provide comfort. As Pope Benedict XVI once said, “The world offers you comfort. But you were not made for comfort. You were made for greatness.”

We can liken our faith to a muscle. If our faith does not continue to grow and stretch, it will become atrophic. Lent is a great time to exercise and experience discomfort in our spiritual life. There are many liturgies the Church offers us, such as the Stations of the Cross, parish missions, Penance Services, and, of course, Holy Week, that can help us. If we do not continue to challenge ourselves, we risk becoming one with the current culture. We risk falling into today’s trap of denying God, denying that he is the creator of all, denying that he wants the best for us.

If we begin to deny God a place in our spiritual lives, we will start to doubt his existence. I am reminded of a quote from the Venerable Pope Pius XII. Think about this quote and see if it hits close to home. He once stated, “A day will come when the civilized world will deny its God, when the Church will doubt as Peter doubted. She will be tempted to believe that man has become God. In our Church, Christians will search in vain for the red lamp where God awaits them. Like Mary Magdalene, weeping before the empty tomb, they will ask, ‘Where have they taken him?’”

Reflecting on the Gospel for the Second Sunday in Lent, February 25, 2024

First Reading: Genesis 22:1-2, 9a, 10-13, 15-18; Second Reading: Romans 8:31b-34 Gospel: Mark 9:2-10

Just six days prior to this glorious event of the Transfiguration, Jesus spoke for the first time to His disciples about His pending crucifixion and death. He taught them that "the Son of Man must suffer greatly and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and rise after three days" (Mark 8:31). Recall that Peter had a difficult time accepting this teaching. Jesus went on to rebuke Peter for his refusal to accept this prophetic teaching and further explained that "Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me" (Mark 8:34). These disciples then had six days to ponder this prophecy of our Lord before witnessing the Transfiguration.

In your life, is there something that God is trying to say to you that you have difficulty accepting? If so, it will most likely be related to God's call to you to take up your cross and follow Him. The Cross of Christ comes in many forms throughout life. It might be experienced when we allow the passion of anger to die so that pure mercy can be offered to one who has hurt us. Or it might be that God is calling you to step out in faith to embrace some endeavor that requires courage and trust. Or it might be that God is calling you to accept some hardship in life that is difficult to accept, such as the loss of a loved one, an illness, the loss of a job or any other difficulty that you struggle to accept with love and trust. Bitterness, resentment, anger, fear and the like are often the most difficult crosses we are called to embrace and let die.

If this resonates with you, then this story of the Transfiguration is for you. After giving these disciples six days to ponder the difficult news of His coming Cross, Jesus gives them hope and inspiration through this sacred encounter. Though it lasted for only a short time, this manifestation of Jesus' glory was all that these disciples needed to begin to accept Jesus' prediction of His passion. On one hand, they feared what Jesus said was going to happen. But on the other hand, they saw His glory and majesty.

By combining these two experiences, these disciples were given a new hope and strength to trust that whatever was to happen in the future, God was in control.

We also need the consoling revelation of our Lord's glory to help us navigate the difficulties we will endure. For some, life is good, very good, and they walk with joy and ease with our Lord. But for others, life has taken a difficult turn and confusion has set in. If life is good for you right now, then rejoice that you are currently sharing a taste of the glory of the Transfiguration. Give thanks to God and tell Him with Saint Peter, "Rabbi, it is good that we are here!" Give thanks to him for the joy and consolation you currently experience. But if life is difficult for you right now, ponder those six days during which the disciples struggled with the prediction of the Lord's passion. Think about their confusion, doubts and fear. As you do, turn your eyes up the mountain. Know that the glory of God awaits you and that He wants to free you from all fear and anxiety. The mountain is climbed by a firm faith that is grounded in prayer. Make that journey with our Lord through prayer.

Reflect, today, upon this holy mountain to which you are called. Know that as you climb it with perseverance and determination, hope and joy will be given to you. Pray for the ability to trust in the God Who not only died a cruel death but also is radiant in glory for all eternity. Trust Him, turn to Him and commit to the journey ahead.

My Transfigured Lord, You revealed Your glory to these disciples as a way of helping them accept Your Cross. Help me to also embrace Your Cross in my life and to see clearly the glory that results from its embrace. I trust in You, dear Lord; help me to trust You more. Jesus, I trust in You.

Readings for each day and links to daily reflections can be found at stpacc.org/readings
